

Call for papers:
XIII IBEO Workshop
19-21 June 2024, Corte, Corse and
1-4 July 2024, Alghero, Sardinia

This year, the Workshop on Institutions, Individual Behavior and Economic Outcomes comprises three meetings in Corte and four in Alghero. We invite paper submissions on the following topics.

1. Tourism Economics. 19th June, Corte

The meeting provides an opportunity to gather academics and scholars to present and discuss their latest research related to tourism economics. Both empirical and theoretical contributions are welcome.

We invite paper submissions – either complete papers or extended abstracts - on a wide range of topics related to tourism economics, including but not limited to:

- Destination performance in the aftermath of COVID-19.
- Tourism and economic development.
- Tourism and economic growth.
- Cultural tourism.
- Tourism and the environment.
- Public policy and over-tourism management.

Keynote speaker: Raffaele Scuderi, Professor of Applied Economics, Kore University of ENNA.

Organising Committee: Sauveur Giannoni and Nicolas Peypoch.

2. Climate Change and Public Policy. 20th June, Corte.

The meeting provides a unique platform for academics and scholars to present and discuss their latest research on the intersection of climate change and economic policy. Both empirical and theoretical contributions are welcome.

We invite paper submissions – either complete papers or extended abstracts - on a wide range of topics related to climate change, including but not limited to:

- Environmental taxation and carbon pricing mechanisms and their economic efficiency and income distribution implications.
- Industrial organisation aspects of climate change, including the impact on markets, firms, and competition.
- The interplay between climate change, technological innovations, and their potential to enhance or hinder economic growth.

Keynote speaker: Mireille Chiroleu Assouline, Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne and Paris School of Economics.

Organising Committee: Georges Casamatta and Wilfried Sand-Zantman.

3. Urban and Regional Economics and Policy. 21st June, Corte.

This meeting aims to explore the complexities of urban and regional economics. Papers covering different urban and regional economics topics from theoretical, empirical and/or policy-oriented perspectives are welcome. The workshop is open to social, cultural, economic, environmental and sustainability contributions, including topics such as quality of life, happiness and life satisfaction.

The organisers invite academic researchers, scholars and policymakers to contribute to scientific, technical and/or managerial papers exploring this topic in developing and developed economies, islands, cities, metropolitan areas, towns and villages. Both theoretical and empirical papers are welcomed.

Keynote speaker: André Torre, University Paris-Saclay and INRAE – Agroparistech.

Organising Committee: Bianca Biagi, Laura Ciucci, Marco Delogu, Claudio Detotto, Marta Meleddu.

4. Digital Economics. 1st - 2nd July, Alghero.

The Digital Economics meeting mainly focuses on the economic analysis (theoretical or empirical) of digital markets with particular emphasis on the following:

- policy issues (antitrust and regulation) related to digital platforms and social media;
- strategic behavior of firms operating in these markets;
- use of big data and artificial intelligence as strategic tools for firms to compete.

The three main themes above are motivated by the challenges that policymakers face when dealing with the specificity of digital markets and by the need for an economic understanding (theoretical and empirical) of the driving forces and welfare consequences of firms' strategies in the digital era.

Organising committee: Elias Carroni, Leonardo Madio, Dimitri Paolini, Michelangelo Rossi.

5. Economics History. 1st July, Alghero.

TBA

Keynote: TBA

Organising Committee: Paolo Di Martino, Alessandro Nuvolari, Giulia Mancini.

6. Economics of Education. 2nd July, Alghero.

The meeting aims to bring together researchers to discuss recent advances in the Economics of Education. The meeting aims to investigate the determinants, impacts and welfare effects of education from different perspectives. In particular, but not exclusively, empirical and theoretical contributions on the role of Higher Education Institutions are welcome.

Keynote: Maria De Paola, Università della Calabria

Organising Committee: William Addessi, Bianca Biagi, Michel Beine, Laura Ciucci, Marco Delogu, Claudio Detotto, Marta Meleddu.

7. Political Economy. 3rd – 4th July, Alghero.

The Political Economy meeting will feature several invited speakers, including Marco Tabellini from Harvard Business School, Edoardo Teso from Northwestern University Kellogg, Alberto Bisin from NYU, Karine Van der Straten from Toulouse, and others.

Thus, this year, a smaller fraction of the contributed papers can be selected for the final program. However, we still would like to solicit applications, especially from scholars working on the political economy of institutional reforms.

Organising Committee: Matteo Gamalerio and Massimo Morelli

8. Corporate Finance, Financial Intermediation and Macro-Finance. 3rd- 4th July, Alghero.

The Corporate Finance, Financial Intermediation and Macro-Finance meeting at the 13th IBEO Workshop is an event designed for researchers working on broad finance and macro-finance topics. Both theoretical and empirical contributions are welcome. In corporate finance, we welcome contributions that investigate firm decisions on investment and financing, firms' interactions with various stakeholders, corporate governance and institutional activism, design of organizational structures, compensation and incentive mechanisms, corporate social responsibility, and implementation of ESG mandates.

In financial intermediation, we encourage contributions on the role of banking and non-banking financial institutions, the micro transmission mechanisms of financial shocks and policies, the financing of small- and medium-sized enterprises, and the interaction between fintech and traditional financial intermediation.

In macro-finance, we welcome contributions on the quantitative role of the credit channel and financial intermediation frictions for macroeconomic outcomes, the interaction between monetary and macroprudential policy, and the redistributive effects of financial policies and shocks. Particularly welcome are contributions emphasizing the microeconomic foundations via dynamic structural modeling while grounded in the data.

Program Committee: Pasqualina Arca, Gianfranco Atzeni, Ramin Baghai, Andrea Carosi, Amil Dasgupta, Luca Deidda, Andrew Ellul, Laurent Fresard, Mariassunta Giannetti, Dmitry Kuvshinov, Caterina Mendicino, Alberto Martin, Steven Ongena, Ettore Panetti, Alessio Piccolo, Vincenzo Quadrini, Uday Rajan, Julien Sauvagnat, Carola Schenone, Merih Sevilir, Rui Silva, Javier Suarez, Quentin Vandeweyer.

Organising Committee: Pasqualina Arca, Gianfranco Atzeni, Andrea Carosi, Luca Deidda, Andrew Ellul, Caterina Mendicino, Ettore Panetti.

Within each meeting, participants will have the opportunity to present their work to a homogeneous audience regarding research interests and get valuable feedback for improving their ongoing research. The event format and locations are ideal for promoting knowledge sharing and social interactions conducive to collaborative research networks. We encourage submissions by junior researchers.

The deadline for the application is March 31, 2024.

Authors of accepted papers will be notified by April 30. For any questions, please email us at workshop.ibeo.corsica@gmail.com for the Corte meetings and crenos.lef@gmail.com for the Alghero meetings.
